PARTICIPANT RESPONSIBILITIES

Remember, you are a student FIRST, and a participant SECOND. A minimum performance in the classroom will reflect negatively on you personally and on your teammates generally. It takes only one “so called star” doing poor class work to label a whole team as academically inferior. We expect our participants to have PRIDE in themselves, their teammates and their school. We will strive at all times to be good citizens. We would hope to develop team morale with self-respect and respect for one another that enables us to work together for our common goals and objectives.

Finally, one of the most important things in building our programs is the idea of building pride and determination within the student participant. Along with this the individual participants need to believe in their talents, but it is teamwork that will help us fulfill our goals.

PARENT RESPONSIBILITIES

*Parents are expected to encourage their child to perform to the best of their ability in both extra-curricular and academic disciplines. They should be a source of support for the participant and the program in which they are participating.

*Parents are role models for participants and representatives of LCS; as such, they are expected to exemplify good attitudes by treating all players, coaches, fans, officials and other parents with respect and dignity. Parents must insist that participants abide by the rules established by LCS, the coach and the Minnesota State High School League.

*Parents should be positive in support of their own team and recognize achievements of opposing teams. Parents should allow their participants to enjoy the benefits of competition, remembering that not everyone can be the star, be on the first team, or have equal playing time.

*Keep winning and losing in proper perspective. Your child’s activity program is designed for students to learn the skills and the appreciation of that activity while still keeping the academic process in balance. Participants who do their best are to be commended even if their best isn’t enough to win.

*Parents should make arrangements to have their child picked up as soon as possible after their event.

*As parents, understand that Loyola Catholic School wants your child to have opportunities to succeed and learn, but we also realize that not every participant’s abilities matches the level of competition in which they are participating. Thus, coaches/advisors will try to set each participant up for success as much as possible while following all state, regional and conference bylaws.

*Finally, as parents, understand that we want to put a greater emphasis on the skills and participation at the junior high level without forgetting what the outcome can be. When we move towards senior high we continue the opportunities for our child but as our levels of competition rise we need to specialize and set our children up for success while continuing to visualize their outcome.

FAN RESPONSIBILITIES

LCS adult and student fans represent the entire system, whether home or away. They are expected to support their team in a positive way and treat all participants and fans with respect and dignity. Attending a high school game is different than attending a professional contest. Your behavior should reflect that difference. Your admission price doesn’t allow you to abuse players, officials or coaches. You are responsible for your behavior. The gym, playing field, or any location home or away are an extension of the classroom. All rules of conduct apply and may be enforced as if you were in school!

COACH/ADVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

The greatest responsibility a coach/advisor has is keeping the participant’s mental, physical and emotional welfare as the top priority. This responsibility includes monitoring academic and eligibility status and being competent and up-to-date in the prevention and care of injuries. Having a first aid kit available at all events is required.

Coaches and advisors must teach their players to dream of high goals and to respect themselves, teammates and their opponents. Motivation should be positive and communication lines should be open at all times.

A pre-season meeting should be held for participants and parents. At this meeting team rules and objectives should be given to the participant in both verbal and written form. A coach/advisor should also supply practice and event schedules and go over the rules of the MSHSL as it pertains to their activity. Rules given will be enforced.

Professional responsibilities must be upheld. Attending conference, regional and state association meetings are required. All coaches/advisors are asked to join the state associations, but head coaches/advisors are required to join and encouraged to be active.

Coaches/advisors must promote their team or program through local, state, and college media. This promotion should also be done through school media publications such as the daily bulletin and school web page, etc.

A coach/advisor must remember that he/she is a representative of LCS. Appropriate dress and conduct should be maintained. LCS is a Christian institution. Head coaches must be willing to accept responsibility for their total program and for all the coaches/advisors in that program. A coach/advisor must remember that they are responsible for the safe supervision of all participants following events until parents pick them up.

Activity programs at LCS are designed for students to learn the skill and the appreciation of an activity while keeping academic progress in balance. We will try to set each participant up for success to the best of our ability.

We want to put a greater emphasis on the skills at the junior high level so as the competition rises in senior high we have set our participants up for success while continuing to visualize our outcome.

SCHOLASTIC ELIGIBILITY

The Loyola Catholic School Board has approved the following co-curricular activity regulations. They should be read carefully. These regulations meet or exceed MSHSL eligibility regulations. Complete regulations for other areas not covered are contained in the MSHSL Handbook.

GOOD ACADEMIC STANDING = Making satisfactory progress towards graduation. NO "F" grades.

To be scholastically eligible to participate in activities, a student must be registered, meeting attendance requirements, enrolled in the required number of courses, and making satisfactory progress toward Loyola's requirements for graduation (GOOD ACADEMIC STANDING).

At mid-quarter, any student failing a course will be removed from his/her current activity until the teacher has signed and submitted the LCS form indicating the student has met the course's mid-quarter requirements. Coaches will receive a notice of any student in his/her program with this academic deficiency.

At the end of the quarter, any student failing a course will be removed from his/her current activity for the required period of time as follows: a two week or two game suspension, whichever is greater, will be handed down for Athletic participants, and a one week or one event suspension, whichever is greater, will be handed down for Fine Arts participants.) Parents/guardians, the student involved, and the coach will be notified of the determination and the penalty.

LCS Administration reserves the right to remove a student's eligibility for activities at any time.*

THE RIGHT TO INVESTIGATE POLICY:

We the LCS system have the right to investigate any situation that deals with the MSHSL Rules – If a student participant is found to be guilty after denying the allegation, he/she will be disqualified from all inter-scholastic events for NINE (9) additional weeks beyond the students original period of in-eligibility.

MSHSL ELIGIBILITY/LCS BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

These rules affect all participants in grades 6 through 12 year round. Please refer to the MSHSL eligibility form for more details.

ATHLETIC & FINE ARTS SPORTSMANSHIP POLICY

It is the vision of Loyola Catholic School to call upon the school community of teachers, coaches, students, parents and directors of music, speech and drama; to strive for sportsmanship in everything they do by teaching the values, long thought inherent in interscholastic activities. The LCS views this policy as an effort to instill values, personal responsibility, good sportsmanship and good citizenship in our students, coaches and fans. It is the belief of the LCS schools that students can believe in and live by the values of: dignity, respect, equity, fairness, scholarship and sportsmanship.

The expectations of the LCS system is to provide an environment where:

- Coaches lead by example through respect of officials and acceptance of the event, without criticism.

- Spectators support the efforts of their team through attendance at events and avoid abusive sideline coaching and criticism of game officials.
- Students demonstrate the model of sportsmanship whether competing or being a spectator.

3. The following steps should be taken in order for conflict to be resolved:

STEP ONE

- A. A meeting between the student, the coach of that level and/or the parent should be called. This meeting can be initiated by the student, the parent or the coaches, but does not have to involve all three parties.

STEP TWO

- A. A meeting between the student, the coach of that level, and/or the parent should be called with the Head Coach/Advisor. This meeting can be initiated by any of these parties, but does not have to involve all parties.

STEP THREE

- A. If any of these parties (coach, participant, or parent) still feel the conflict is not resolved, any party may call a meeting between the parent, the coaches, the participant and the Activities Administrator.
- B. The Activity Administrator will keep notes of the meeting. If the Activity Administrator is the coach involved, an advisory committee representative will act as the mediator.

STEP FOUR

- A. If any of the four parties (coach participant, parent or Activity Administrator) still feel that the conflict is not resolved, a meeting with the Advisory Committee and these parties will be set up to deal with the conflict. (The Advisory Committee will be made up of the Activities Administrator two Coaches/Advisors of different activities and two Faculty Members of the LCS System as well as one administrator.)
